

How to mix Ragazzo with Frosty Boy powder-to-liquid converter

Ragazzo is best used in conjunction with a Frosty Boy powder-to-liquid converter (PLC). This unique device makes it even simpler to mix your ingredients.

Simply pour the powder and the emulsifier paste into the blender, add the dairy component, choose the type of product you want to make and press the start button.

As the PLC is plumbed into your potable waterline, you won't even have to measure any water, as the machine will do it for you. Just allow the PLC to run for ten minutes, it will beep when the mix is ready, and then pour the liquid into your batch freezer.

The PLC can be purchased from the Frosty Boy website under Equipment and Accessories.
