

How to rent or lease a brand new Soft-Serve machine

With equipment leases, interest paid on the outstanding balance is tax deductible as well as depreciation.

Contact your local Frosty Boy Australia Distributor to request a quote.

Note: For any finance related questions, you are also welcome to contact QPF (Queensland Pacific Finance) direct with your question or for a quote. Phone: (07) 3290-7400.

You will then receive an official quote, usually within 24 hours. Installation and delivery is included for major metropolitan areas but charges may apply outside of these areas. Please enquire about this as it may be included in your lease payments which will form part of your quote.

If you choose to go ahead:

An application for lease will be sent to you requesting some basic financial information. You will fill this out and fax it back to Frosty Boy Australia (Fax: 07 - 3806 2999) and we will open a folder for you and forward it to the finance company specified. They may approve it unconditionally, or depending on your specific circumstances, may request a deposit.

If the elected finance company finds you to be a suitable applicant, a lease contract will be forwarded to you. You will have to complete the lease contract and send it back to the finance company with a cheque for the first month's rent.

The finance company will process your contract and inform us when everything is in order.

The machine will then be delivered and installed, which usually takes approximately five working days from date of notification. This period may be longer depending on the availability of your model ordered in your state.

We will liaise with our Frosty Boy Australia distributor to ensure that you are contacted before your machine arrives and supply you with products, mixing buckets and whisks and any relevant marketing material for your store.

After delivery and installation - it is time for you to make money!
